Marc Hughes

Head of Property Management

Experience

I have over 8 years' experience in the property management and construction industry. I began my career as a crane operator in Central London working on huge developments such as Great Ormond St and St Georges Wharf in Vauxhall After refurbishing my own house I realised my passion for property and began work at Apollo group then moved to Acorn as a property manager and from there Dinglis Estates, a development company based in north London. I am ARLA qualified and have been with GLP since 2013. I now manage the Property Management team here at GLP working with private landlords, Local Estates and oversee all aspects of the property management.

Why am I good at my job

Because I have to be. Organised, efficient, able to prioritise, good experience, member of ARLA so I have access to industry leading training events and material.

“With so many changes to property legislation I have relied on Marc to provide me with updates to ensure my rental property is legally covered and I have all the correct documentation. Its great having one point of contact and I know my tenants appreciate it as well”
